We are excited to share that the Conquer Cancer's American Society of Clinical Oncology awards, the 'International Development and Education Award-Palliative Care' (IDEA-PC) has been awarded to Dr Shamali Poojary, for 2022, and to Dr Gauraiya Chinchalkar and Dr Rucha Patil for 2020.

The three stars received the award on Friday, 3rd June, 2022, at the ASCO's 56th Annual Meeting held at Chicago, USA (first in-person meeting since the pandemic).

This award is presented in recognition of the commitment to cancer research and accelerating breakthroughs that will make a difference in the lives of those affected by cancer, by each of these three young Doctors.

The young doctors share that participating at the ASCO's 56th Annual Meeting provided them with an excellent opportunity to connect with people sharing similar interests, and to mutually exchange knowledge and experiences. They also highlighted that they visited and participated in clinical rounds and saw patients in both the Out-patient and In-patient unit of the Department of Palliative Medicine, University of Chicago Medicine, and that they were both grateful and inspired by their interactions with a few of the pioneers from the field of Oncology.

Congratulations Dr Gauraiya Chinchalkar, Dr Rucha Patil and Dr Shamali Poojary! We wish you the best for all your future endeavours!
